A man with long hair and a beard, wearing a purple jersey, is shown in profile, looking down. The background is dark and blurry, suggesting an indoor setting with other people.

“ILUMINATTI”

The new film by Argentine director Julián Reboratti tells the story of Diego Romeros, an actor, once famous and now a failed film director, who after tasting the honeys of success, is daily debated between sanity and the descent into total madness.

"Iluminatti" is also a tribute and at the same time a rabid criticism of the world of film and television and almost in a documentary key, it is a crude account of the current difficult situation of thousands of people who live today in the city of Buenos Aires in a street situation.
